Paul presents to McIntosh Dental for a consultation after a referral from Roy at Absolutely Thailand. Paul is looking at travelling to Thailand at some point within this year. Paul's main concern is the upper arch. Paul has looked into the option of All-On-Four or implants with a removable denture. The lower teeth are largely filled with amalgams and Paul mentions replacement with crowns.

Previous dental history:

Paul last saw the dentist in March 2015 at Wairau Dental. The dentist advised that due to the deteriorating oral health that it would best be suited to have the remaining upper teeth extracted and replaced with a full upper denture. The denture has been realigned a few times and today is still slightly mobile.

Homecare: Manual toothbrush.

Examination shows:

The upper denture bites into an edge to edge bite allowing a cross bite in the posterior segments left and right. A new implant over denture should try to create an overlap. As a result with this current bite, 21 has a fractures incisal edge on the plastic tooth. Upper ridge has got sufficient bone, nice round ridges with about 10mm of sufficient bone. The maxillary ridge is much narrow and 'V' shaped as opposed to the 'U' shaped lower arch. For the lower teeth advised crowns for 38, 36, 48, 47. Tooth 35 shows a large silver filling which could also benefit from a crown. The rest of the teeth are in a good condition. There seems to be remaining root pieces of possible tooth of 14, 25 which will need to be extracted.

Upon discussion with Paul, Advised minimum of four implants in the maxillary anterior region to support a removable upper implant retained full denture.
